Who are you, really?

In an uncertain world, we crave the security of knowing exactly who we are and where we belong. But too often as women, we try to find this safety in our roles and relationships, our professional accomplishments, or our picture-perfect homes. And as we do, our souls shrink smaller and smaller. It's because these things aren't made to hold us.

In Made for More, Hannah Anderson invites you to re-imagine yourself, not simply as a set of roles and categories, but as a person destined to live in the fullness of God Himself.

Starting with our first identity as image bearers, Hannah shows how Jesus Christ makes us people who can reflect His nature through our unique callings. She also explores how these deeper truths affect the practical realities that we face as women—how does being an image bearer shape our pursuit of education, our work, and even our desire for holistic lives?

Because you are made in God's image, you will only ever know yourself—only ever be yourself—as you find your identity in Him. Find it now.

As a college student exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher expected them to go to the library or even make summary for some publication, they are complained. Just minor students that has reading's internal or real their pastime. They just do what the professor want, like asked to go to the library. They go to there but nothing reading very seriously. Any students feel that studying is not important, boring as well as can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important in your case.
