The first authorized translation of Dr. Jiao's teaching materials gives practitioners and advanced students the unprecedented opportunity of learning from the vast clinical experience of a living master. He discusses approximately 300 Chinese medicinal herb substances, giving basic information (taste, temperature, entering channels) and details of specific practical applications (representative formulas, preparations and dosages, and comparisons with other medicinals with similar or related actions).

Dr. Jiao's books are the most used teaching texts in both the People's Republic and Taiwan.
