Captain Noah and His Magical Ark: Exciting Adventures Behind the Scenes of a Legendary Children's Television Show W. Carter Merbreier

Share the excitement and danger of producing and hosting one of the longest running (30 years!) Children's Television Shows, "Captain Noah and His Magical Ark".

We'll never see the likes of local children's TV shows again! For those who sat safely in front of the TV in their pajamas while their parents rushed around doing their morning routine, take a trip back with us to the reason you loved to wake up every morning.

An angry longhorn steer appears live on the studio set of the Magical Ark; a 600 pound Bengal tiger; alligators and crocodiles; camels and penguins; the ostrich that committed suicide among the forest of mike-stands. Whatever happened was caught live on camera and navigated calmly by "dear old Captain Noah".

In addition to animals, Captain Noah was known for his famous guests, including Charles Barkley, Dorothy Hamill, Stevie Wonder, Martina Navratilova, Frank Perdue and many more. Read about these and other encounters including Elvis Presley, Bob Saget, Jon Stewart and John Lennon.

Re-live these moments with both these special guests and "the regulars" who held the show together: Mrs. Noah, the wonderful puppeteer, and her crew of animal puppets, Larry Ferrari, providing apropos music at the organ (even for a cow urinating on the deck) and Miss Elaine in her sailor suit (who was also our producer).

Hearken back to a much simpler time when you could actually watch a TV Show that ended with the message "Be good to one another and don't forget to say your prayers."

And, of course, the timeless songs made famous by Captain Noah: "Send your pictures to dear old Captain Noah..." and "Red and Yellow and Pink and Green... I can sing a rainbow..."

Captain Noah still believes that you can sing a rainbow, too!
